To whom it may Concern:, 6/12/2011

On December 22, 2010 I was arrested on a charge of Burglary occupied Dwelling case # 2010-CF1800.

Well on December 23, 2010 the Honorable Judge David C. Morgan of the 19th Judicial Circuit Court of Indian River County in Vero Beach Fla. found no probable Cause on the primary charge of Burglary occupied Dwelling and released me on a R.O.R., I couldn't be released cause I had a $15,500 on 3 misdeameanor's.

The finding of No Probable Cause by Judge David C. Morgan on the charge I was arrested for is on record and in writing at the Indian River County Court house.

I've asked my Public Defender K. Blak Smith numerous of times to file numerous of motion's on my behalf and he never filed any motions on my behalf including a motion to Dismiss. instead he insisted that I take the deal the state attorney offered.

I've stated to the Public Defender that according to the Florida Rules of the Court, Rules Regulating the Florida Bar, Rules of Professional Conduct Rule 4-3.8 Special responsibilities of a prosecutor

The prosecutor in a criminal case shall:

(A) Refrain from Prosecuting a charge that the prosecutor knows is not supported by probable cause, and my Public Defender at the time should have filed a motion to have my charge of Burglary occupied Dwelling Dismissed due to the fact that Judge David C. Morgan found No Probable Cause on the Charge I was arrested for and released me on a R.O.R.

The Prosecutor in my case Ms. Victoria L. Winfield knew she could not prosecute me on the charge of Burglary occupied Dwelling due to the fact that the Judge found No Probable Cause and the prosecutor violatated rule 4-3.8 and I would like something done about the prosecutor violating one of the rules of the Florida Courts, I would like to try and have my charge and time that I got for the charge terminated due to the fact of ~~prose~~ prosecutor procutorial misconduct.

Look into this letter and reply with feed back please.

Thank You for your time and patients.

MAGISTRATE JUDGE P.A. WHITE

ANTHONY S. QUINLIN, :

Plaintiff, :

v. :

KEVIN KEITZ, et al., :

Defendants. :

REPORT OF
MAGISTRATE JUDGE

I. Introduction

The plaintiff, Anthony S. Quinlin, a detainee at the Indian River County Jail, filed a a pro se civil rights complaint pursuant to 42 U.S.C. §1983, raising claims of excessive force, arising from events surrounding his arrest on December 22, 2010.

This Cause is before the Court upon a preliminary screening of the complaint pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §1915. The plaintiff is proceeding in forma pauperis.

II. Analysis

As amended, 28 U.S.C. §1915 reads in pertinent part as follows:

> Sec. 1915 Proceedings in Forma Pauperis
> (e)(2) Notwithstanding any filing fee, or any portion thereof, that may have been paid, the court shall dismiss the case at any time if the court determines that -

> * * *
> (i) is frivolous or malicious;
> (ii) fails to state a claim on which relief may be granted; or
> (iii) seeks monetary relief from a defendant who is immune from such relief.

This is a civil rights action Pursuant to 42 U.S.C. §1983. Such actions require the deprivation of a federally protected right by a person acting under color of state law. See 42 U.S.C. 1983; Polk County v Dodson, 454 U.S.312 (1981); Whitehorn v Harrelson, 758 F. 2d 1416, 1419 (11 Cir. 1985. The standard for determining whether a complaint states a claim upon which relief may be granted is the same whether under 28 U.S.C. §1915(e)(2)(B) or Fed.R.Civ.P. 12(b)(6) or (c). See Mitchell v. Farcass, 112 F.3d 1483, 1490 (11 Cir. 1997)("The language of section 1915(e)(2)(B)(ii) tracks the language of Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 12(b)(6)"). A complaint is "frivolous under section 1915(e) "where it lacks an arguable basis either in law or in fact." Neitzke v. Williams, 490 U.S. 319, 325 (1989); Bilal v. Driver, 251 F.3d 1346, 1349 (11 Cir.), cert. denied, 534 U.S. 1044 (2001). Dismissals on this ground should only be ordered when the legal theories are "indisputably meritless," id., 490 U.S. at 327, or when the claims rely on factual allegations that are "clearly baseless." Denton v. Hernandez, 504 U.S. 25, 31 (1992). Dismissals for failure to state a claim are governed by the same standard as Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 12(b)(6). Mitchell v. Farcass, 112 F.3d 1483, 1490 (11 Cir. 1997)("The language of section 1915(e)(2)(B)(ii) tracks the language of Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 12(b)(6)"). In order to state a claim, a plaintiff must show that conduct under color of state law, complained of in the civil rights suit, violated the plaintiff's rights, privileges, or immunities under the Constitution or laws of the United States. Arrington v. Cobb County, 139 F.3d 865, 872 (11 Cir. 1998).

To determine whether a complaint fails to state a claim upon which relief can be granted, the Court must engage in a two-step inquiry. First, the Court must identify the allegations in the complaint that are not entitled to the assumption of truth. Bell Atlantic Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 555 (2007)). Twombly applies to §1983 prisoner actions. See Douglas v. Yates, 535 F.3d 1316, 1321 (11 Cir. 2008). These include "legal conclusions" and "[t]hreadbare recitals of the elements of a cause of action [that are] supported by mere conclusory statements." Second, the Court must determine whether the complaint states a plausible claim for relief. Id. This is a "context-specific task that requires the reviewing court to draw on its judicial experience and common sense." The plaintiff is required to plead facts that show more than the "mere possibility of misconduct." The Court must review the factual allegations in the complaint "to determine if they plausibly suggest an entitlement to relief." When faced with alternative explanations for the alleged misconduct, the Court may exercise its judgment in determining whether plaintiff's proffered conclusion is the most plausible or whether it is more likely that no misconduct occurred.[1]

Statement of the Claims

Quinlin alleges that on December 22, 2010, Police K-9 dog handler, Kevin Keitz used his attack dog in an unlawful manner. He claims that he was apprehended and ordered to get on the ground.

[1] The application of the Twombly standard was clarified in Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 129 S.Ct. 1937 (2009).

While on the ground, and defenseless, the plaintiff claims that Keitz allowed his K-9 charge to twice attack him, resulting in documented medical injuries. He alleges that Deputy Sheriff John Clark took him into custody despite his numerous requests for emergency medical assistance. [2]The plaintiff seeks monetary damages.

He claims the primary charge of burglary of an occupied dwelling was subsequently dropped for lack of probable cause.

Use of Force

Claims of excessive force by police officers are cognizable under 42 U.S.C. §1983. Fundiller v. City of Cooper City, 777 F.2d 1436 (11 Cir. 1985). A claim that a law enforcement officer used excessive force in the course of an arrest, an investigatory stop, or any other seizure of a free citizen is to be analyzed under the Fourth Amendment and its "reasonableness" standard. Graham v. Connor, 490 U.S. 386 (1989); Vinyard v. Wilson, 311 F.3d 1340, 1346-47 (11 Cir. 2002); Lee v. Ferraro, 284 F.3d 1188, 1197 (11 Cir. 2002); Ortega v. Schram, 922 F.2d 684, 694 (11 Cir. 1991).

Such an analysis requires a court to balance "the nature and quality of the intrusion on the individual's Fourth Amendment interests against the importance of the government interest alleged to justify the intrusion." Graham, supra, quoting United States v. Place, 462 U.S. 696 (1983). The factors to consider when balancing an arrestee's constitutional rights and the need for use of force include (1) the severity of the crime at issue; (2) whether the suspect poses an immediate threat to the safety of the officers or others, and (3) whether the suspect is actively resisting arrest or attempting to evade arrest by flight; Graham, supra, 490 U.S. at 396; Vinyard, supra, 311 F.3d at 1347; Lee, supra, 284 F.3d at 1197; and in determining whether the force applied was "reasonable" under the circumstances, the Court must examine: (1) the need for the application of force; (2) the relationship between the need and the amount of force that was used; and (3) the extent of the injury inflicted upon the individual to whom the force was applied. Graham, at 396; Vinyard, at 1347; Lee at 1998. Although the test applied by the Eleventh Circuit previously included a subjective prong, examining whether the force was applies maliciously, see e.g. Leslie v. Ingraham, 786 F.2d 1533, 1536 (11 Cir. 1986), that factor was eliminated from the analysis by Graham and other cases establishing that the excessive force inquiry should be completely objective, thereby excluding consideration of the Officer's intentions. Lee, supra, 284 F.3d at 1198 n.7. Thus, "reasonableness" for purposes of such an analysis is judged according to an objective standard under the totality of the circumstances, without regard to the officers' underlying intent. Graham, supra at 389. In Lee, the Eleventh Circuit explained that "Graham dictates unambiguously that the force used by a police officer in carrying out an arrest must be reasonably proportionate to the need for that force, which is measured by the severity of the crime, the danger to the officer, and the risk of flight." Lee, supra, 284 F.3d at 1198.

K-9 Force

The practice of police departments authorizing officers to use trained police dogs to find, seize and hold suspects, by biting if necessary, has been upheld by the courts. See: Kerr v. City of West Palm Beach, 875 F.2d 1546 (11 Cir. 1989); Chew v. Gates, 744 F.Supp. 952 (C.D.Cal. 1990). However, whether a particular use of force is a sufficient intrusion, so as to violate a suspect's Fourth Amendment rights, is subject to analysis under Graham v. Connor, supra.

Analysis of complaint

In the present case, the plaintiff claims that in spite of his compliance with the deputy's order to get down on the ground, Keitz allowed the K-9 to attack him, while he was disarmed and vulnerable. At this preliminary stage he has stated a claim against Deputy Keitz for use of unlawful force.

He further alleges that Deputy Sheriff Clark took him into custody, refusing to respond to his requests for emergency medical aid. Although Clark is not formally named as a defendant in the complaint, he is named in the body of the complaint. In light of the plaintiff's pro-se status he will be construed as a named defendant.

The Eighth Amendment prohibits any punishment which violates civilized standards of decency or "involve[s] the unnecessary and wanton infliction of pain." Estelle v. Gamble, 429 U.S. 97, 102-03 (1976) (quoting Gregg v. Georgia, 428 U.S. 153, 173(1976)); see also Campbell v. Sikes, 169 F.3d 1353, 1363 (11 Cir. 1999).

Because the plaintiff was a pretrial detainee at the time of the events alleged, his claims must be analyzed under the Due Process Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment rather than the Cruel and Unusual Punishment Eighth Amendment standard. Bell, 441 U.S. at 535; Hamm, 774 F.2d at 1571-74. In the context of a pretrial detainee claim of denial of medical care, the standards are the same. Id.

To demonstrate a claim for denial or delay of medical treatment the plaintiff must demonstrate deliberate indifference. Deliberate indifference can be established by evidence that necessary medical treatment has been withheld or delayed for non-medical or unexplained reasons. Farrow v West, 320 F.3d 1235, 1247 (11th Cir.2003) (finding jury question on issue of deliberate indifference because of unexplained fifteen-month delay in treatment). In this case, it is difficult to determine the extent of the plaintiff's injuries at the time of his being taken into custody, and whether his injuries were of a severity that required immediate, emergency medical attention. The length of time the plaintiff's medical treatment was delayed is also unclear. Therefore, without further factual development, it appears the plaintiff has minimally stated a claim against Deputy Clark for delay of medical treatment.

Lastly, the plaintiff has failed to state a claim against Sheriff Loar, and the complaint should be dismissed against Loar under the theory of respondeat superior. If a plaintiff sues a supervisor, there must be proof that the alleged injuries resulted from an official custom, policy, or practice. Monell v. Department of Social Services, 436 U.S. 658, 694 (1978); Mandel v. Doe, 888 F.2d 782 (11 Cir. 1989). The plaintiff bears the burden of establishing a causal link between a government policy or custom and the injury which is alleged. Byrd v. Clark, 783 F.3d 1002, 1008 (11 Cir. 1986)(citing Monell, supra). See also; Ashcroft v Iqbal, supra. (Heightened pleading standard for supervisory liability) In this case there are no direct allegations against Loar, that he either took part in the assault upon the plaintiff, or was aware of the circumstances, and he should be dismissed from the lawsuit.[3]

The plaintiff has not specified whether he intends to sue the defendants in their individual and official capacities. A §1983 suit against the defendants in their official capacity is tantamount to a suit against the State, and thus the defendants would be immune from monetary damages based upon the Eleventh Amendment. Gamble v. Fla. Dept. of Health and Rehabilitative Services, 779 F.2d 1509, 1512-13 (11 Cir. 1986). The allegations of the complaint, however, state a classic case of officials acting outside the scope of their duties and in an arbitrary manner. Scheuer v. Rhodes, 416 U.S. 232, 238 (1974). Under this construction of the complaint, this Court has jurisdiction over the defendants in their individual capacity.

III. Recommendation

Based on the foregoing, it is recommended that:

1. The claim of excessive force under the Fourth Amendment shall proceed against Defendant Officer Keitz.

2. The claim for delay of medical treatment should proceed against Defendant Clark.

3. Sheriff Loar should be dismissed for failure to state a claim against him.

[3] Although Indian River County is listed as a defendant on the docket, and a review of the complaint indicates that the Indian River County Sheriff's Department may have been named as a separate defendant, both defendants are improper. These defendants are not separate entities for purposes of 1983, but an arm of the county. The plaintiff must demonstrate that a county custom or policy is unconstitutional and led to a violation of the plaintiff's civil rights. Monell, supra. The plaintiff has failed to demonstrate a Monell claim.

4. Indian River County and the Sheriff's Department shall be dismissed for failure to state a claim against these defendants.

Objections to this report may be filed with the District Judge within fourteen days of receipt of a copy of the report.

It is so recommended at Miami, Florida, this 14th day of July, 2011.

able at the time of the pretrial conference, (2) privileged matters, and (3) matters to be used solely for impeachment purposes.

7. If the plaintiff fails to file a Pretrial Statement, as required by paragraph 4 of this order, paragraph 5 of this order shall be suspended and the defendants shall notify the Court of plaintiff's failure to comply. The plaintiff is cautioned that failure to file the Pretrial Statement may result in dismissal of this case for lack of prosecution.

8. The plaintiff shall serve upon defense counsel, at the address given for him/her in this order, a copy of every pleading, motion, memorandum, or other paper submitted for consideration by the Court and shall include on the original document filed with the Clerk of the Court a certificate stating the date that a true and correct copy of the pleading, motion, memorandum, or other paper was mailed to counsel. THE MATTER was referred to the Honorable Patrick A. White, United States Magistrate Judge for a Report and Recommendation on Plaintiff's Complaint pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1915 (D.E. No. 1). DEFENDANTS' MOTION TO COMPEL PLAINTIFF TO ANSWER INTERROGATORIES AND RESPOND TO REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION AND MOTION TO EXTEND DISCOVERY DEADLINE

Defendants, DEPUTY KEVIN KEITZ and DEPUTY JOHN CLARK, through their undersigned attorneys, pursuant to Rules 6(b) and 37(a)(1) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and Local Rule 26.1(h)(2) for the United States District Court, Southern District of Florida, file this their Motion to Compel Plaintiff to Answer Interrogatories and Respond to the Request for Production and to Extend Discovery Deadline (and Memorandum of Law), and in support thereof would state as follows:

1. Defendants' First Set of Interrogatories and First Request for Production were mailed to the Plaintiff on November 15, 2011. (See attached Exhibit "A" and "B").

2. As of today's date, the undersigned has not received Plaintiff's Answers to Interrogatories or Response to the Request for Production.

3. Pursuant to this Court's Scheduling Order [DE 18], the deadline to complete all discovery is January 3, 2012.

4. Because Plaintiff has not provided answers to Defendants' Interrogatories or a response to Defendants' Request for Production, Defendants have not been able to depose the Plaintiff.

5. Because the discovery deadline is quickly approaching, undersigned counsel has not conferred with the Plaintiff regarding the relief sought in this motion.

WHEREFORE, it is respectfully requested that this Honorable Court enter an Order compelling the Plaintiff to answer Defendant's First Set of Interrogatories and respond to Defendant's First Request for Production propounded to him by a specific date, and upon failure to do so, that sanctions be imposed, including, but not limited to, dismissal of this action in its entirety, and allowing an enlargement of time to conduct depositions up to and including March 5, 2012.

Further, and in support of Defendants' Motion, undersigned counsel would refer this Honorable Court to the Memorandum of Law incorporated herein and by reference made a part hereof.

MEMORANDUM OF LAW

Rule 33 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure reads, in pertinent part, as follows:

> (b)(2) Time to Respond. The responding party must serve its answers and any objections within 30 days after being served with the interrogatories.

Rule 34 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure reads, in pertinent part, as follows:

> (b)(2)(A) Time to Respond. The party to whom the request is directed must respond in wiritng within 30 days after being served.

Rule 37 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure reads, in pertinent part, as follows:

> (a)(3)(B) To Compel a Discovery Response. A party seeking discovery may move for an order compelling an answer, designation, production or inspection. This motion may be made if:...(iv) a party fails to respond that inspection will be permitted–or fails to permit inspection–as requested under Rule 34.
> (a)(5)(a) If the motion is granted — or if the disclosure or requested discovery is provided after the motion was filed — the court must, after giving an opportunity to be heard, require the party or deponent whose conduct necessitated the motion, the party or attorney advising that conduct, or both to pay the movant's reasonable expenses incurred in making the motion, including attorney's fees...

Rule 26.1 for the United State District Court, Southern District of Florida, reads, in pertinent part, as follows:

> (c) Discovery Material to be Filed with Motions. If relief is sought under any of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, copies of the discovery matters in dispute shall be filed with the Court contemporaneously with any motion filed under these Local Rules by the party seeking to invoke the Court's relief.

Rule 6(b) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure provides, in pertinent part, that:

> "[when] by these Rules or notice given thereunder or by order of court, an act is required or allowed to be done at or within a specified time, the court for cause shown may at any time in its discretion...order a period enlarged if request therefore is made before the expiration of the period originally prescribed or as extended by a previous order ..."

Rule 6(b) affords wide discretion to this Court to enlarge time period established by a rule or a court order. See Woods v. Allied Concord Financial Corp., 373 F.2d 733 (5th Cir. 1967); Yanofsky v. Wernick, 362 F.Supp. 1005 (S.D. N.Y. 1973); Graham v. Brier, 418 F.Supp. 73 (S.D. Wis. 1976); Moore's Federal Practice §608 (2d.Ed 1984). Enlargements of time should be available when a party demonstrates a reasonable basis for such request. See Beaufort Concrete Company v. Atlantic States

Construction Company, 352 F.2d 460 (5th Cir. 1965). The enlargement of time requested by the Defendants does not prejudice the Plaintiff in this case.

As recited above, the Plaintiff has completely failed to answer the Defendant's First Set of Interrogatories or respond to the Defendant's First Request for Production. These requests are succinct and unambiguous and seek information that is reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. Additionally, having shown a reasonable basis for the enlargement of time requested, it is appropriate that the discovery deadline be extended up to and including March 5, 2012 in order to depose the Plaintiff.

Defendants Motion should be granted.

I HEREBY CERTIFY that I electronically filed a copy of the foregoing with the Clerk of the Court by using the CM/ECF system, and sent a copy via U.S. mail to: Anthony S. Quinlin, Pro Se, 2302 Barbara Avenue, Ft. Pierce, FL 34982 this 29th day of December, 2011.
